

American University of Central Asia

International and Comparative Politics Department

Special Education Needs and Disability Regulation

Students with special needs may require special arrangements relating to attending class sessions, carrying out assignments, or taking examinations. If you need immediate accommodations or physical access, please arrange to meet with the instructor and the head of the department in the first week of the semester.