

Faculty of Economics Saint Petersburg State University

Welcomes you to the Semester Program

Russia in the Global Political and Economic Arena

09.02.2011 – 31.05.2011

Saint Petersburg – the imperial capital of Russia

One of the 20th century greatest politicians Winston Churchill famously said that Russia is “an enigma wrapped in mystery”. The simple reason behind such vivid idiom could be that the famous British Prime Minister never spent more than few days in Russia and thus never had a chance to learn more about the country, its people, history, culture, economy and perhaps even politics.

Our program aims to offer the future political and business leaders a unique opportunity in the sense of getting firsthand experience and accumulating knowledge that help understanding various aspects of Russia's standing in the contemporary global political and economic arena.

Besides the facts that Saint Petersburg is one of the oldest Russian universities and that Saint Petersburg is one of the most beautiful cities in Europe we offer intellectually challenging study program and an opportunity to network with experts and colleagues and simply make friends!

On behalf of the program's Steering Committee and all academic and support staff: Welcome!

Professor Sergei Sutyurin
Head, Department of World Economy

Details at www.worlddec.ru

Semester Program
Department of World Economy
Saint Petersburg State University
Ul. Chaikovskogo 62
191 194 Saint Petersburg, RUSSIA

E-mail: peter.zashev@zet-group.fi
<http://www.worlddec.ru>

Tel. + 358 40 708 5151
Fax + 7 812 2720330